RUSSIAN SOVIET REPLY TO WILSON INSULTING

ACKNOWLEDGE GOOD WISHES OF OUR PRESIDENT BY INVITING AMERICAN WORKERS TO REBEL

THE BOLSHEVIKI ARE AS GERMANS

(By United Press)

Petrograd March 15—President Wilson's message of sympathy to the Russian people was read to the Pan-Soviet congress at Moscow amidst silence interrupted by murmurs regarding the Japanese situation. The Congress which met yesterday to vote on the ratification of the German-Bolsheviki peace terms today adopted a resolution in reply to President Wilson's message. The resolution read "The congress of Soviets expresses its appreciation to the American people particularly the toilers and those who are being exploited for their sympathy toward the Russian people at a time when the Russian socialis representatives are experiencing their greatest hardships. The representatives take advantage of President Wilson's message to express to all peoples perishing and suffering as the reult of an imperialistic war its warmest sympathy and confidence. We believe that the time is not far distant when the masses will overthrow capital and establish a Socialistic society which alone is capable of giving a lasting and just peace and assuring the welfare of toilers."

Washington, March 16—That the Bolsheviki leaders have definitely cast their lot with the Germans was further proved today by the chill reception given President Wilson's message is discouraging the masses of response in urging an upheaval of American labor. The response, angling for the uprising of the toilers, is regarded here as part of the German game directly instigated by Lenine, Germany's paymaster.

While directed particularly to the United States the Soviet's response was interpreted by some as a blanket invitation for the uprising of all workers in all countries—Teutons Included. It will fall on deaf ears authorities say. Further it will probably discourage efforts to sway the Bolsheviki although it will not prevent the United States from doing their utmost to aid the Russian people as a whole. While the government's attitude toward the President's message is discouraging the masses of Russia can still be persuaded if they can be reached with propaganda.

CAMP LEE BOYS TO BE GIVEN TRIP HOME

Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va. March 15—Every soldier in the eightieth division will be permitted to go home to spend several days before he leaves for France, according to Major General Adelbert Cronkhite. The furlough is intended as a recognition of the enthusiasm with which the members of the division have given up their usual Wednesday half holidays and evenings that they might get every minute of drill that it is possible to give them in the time remaining before the soldiers leave for France. If Director General of Railroads McAdoo permits the Pittsburgh and Allegheny county soldiers to go home for the parade on April 6 they will be the first to leave. The others will leave after they have returned.

THREE KILLED IN MINE EXPLOSION

Kittanning, March 16.—Three men were believed killed and perhaps a score injured shortly after noon today when a small mine owned by local people just across the Allegheny river from Ford City blew up. The cause of the explosion and all details are lacking, due to poor telephone connections. Rescue work is under way by parties from Ford City. The mine employs about 25 men, and all were believed to have been at work when the accident occurred.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TO MARCH 31ST

Washington, March 15—The House of Representatives, by 252 to 40, today passed the Senate daylight-saving bill, under the terms of which, when it receives the signature of President Wison, it will be required that all the clocks in the United States be turned ahead one hour at 2 a. m. on Sunday, March 31, and remain advanced one hour until 2 a. m. the last Sunday in October.

Under the bill as passed by the Senate the limit was fixed as the last Sunday in September. The House amendment extending the daylight saving one month as adopted upon representations by Fuel Administrator Garfield that a great amount of fuel would be conserved thereby. It is expected that the Senate will concur in the amendment tomorrow.

Five standard time zones for the United States will be fixed by the government, acsording to the bill, and it is made mandatory upon the railroads to follow the standard time.

ODD AND INTERESTING

An odd feature in connection with the palace at Potsdam is that the kitchen is housed in a separate building. Frederick the Great hated the smells of the kitchen and he had that most necessary adjunct to every house moved away from the palace. The eatables were conveyed to the royal dining hall by an underground passage. Emperor William still keeps up the custom of his predecessor.

In Mauritius railways have been installed to carry sugar-cane from the fields to the mills. Monkeys, learning of the practice, used to place sentinels to give warning when a train was aproaching a particular incline, where it was compelled to slow up. The whole tribe would then leap upon the cars and throw off cane after cane until the top of the hill was reached. Finally it became necessary to set a special guard to keep off the marauders.

Jack Dempsey will soon start on his return trip of wading through the heavyweight division. The Californian is booked to meet two scrappers he has previously knocked for a goal, namely Bob McAllister, whom he will face at Camp Funston, March 22, and Al Norton, who is to be his opponent in a 20 round clash at Denver, March 28.

It takes 15 minutes for the sound of heavy gunfire to travel to England.

FAIR EXHIBITS TO BE BETTER THAN EVER

Farmers And Gardeners Working Hard To Produce Prize Winning Fruits And Stock

VOCAL ORCHESTRA ENGAGED

Every effort is being made to encourage the best agricutural exhibit ever made at the Clearfield County Fair to be held next September.

The Premium list is being revised in the most liberal manner. Circulars offering substantial prizes for school work have been sent to all the teachers, and in a few days other circulars will go out to the schools offering good premiums to the children for garden products — both fresh and canned to be exhibited at the fair, also a circular announcing the boys and girls livestock judging contest. and club work in raising pigs and other animals—the test of merit to be the condition of the animals when put on exhibition at the fair.

Farmers and gardeners are urged to plan now to plant and prepare in good time so that their products may be in the best of shape for exhibition next fall in order that the agricultural exhibit shall be a credit to the people of the county.

It is hoped that no one will be discouraged by the experience of last year's unfavorable season the like of which has not been seen for a long time, nor is it likely to occur again for many years.

In view of the food situation the world over, we should this year, of all years, make our best efforts to increase crop production by whatever means we can. This the fair management realizes and is endeavoring to do all they can to encourage.

The management has been fortunate in securing the Wallace Vocal orchestra to entertain at the county fair next September with the instrumental music and singing that has charmed the people of other towns on many occasions.

Efforts were made to secure these musical artists both last year and year before but always too late—their services are in such demand. This year it was determined to go after them in time and success has been the result. We are sure the people will be wonderfully pleased with their performance.

CLEARFIELD DOWNS REYNOLDSVILLE 5

Last night's game at the High School gym was a comeback for the local tossers after their defeat at the hands of their Reynoldsvillian opponents some few weeks ago. When the final call of the timer's whistle called its last call the boys from the ville of Reynolds were on the short end of the scoring. Total count 48-36.

As a victory it counts for the local team. As a thriller it was only passing fair. The locals have worked up a system of long passes and when a team that is accustomed to working on a small floor goes up against these long passes they seem to be lost. The short choppy passing of the visitors got the locals' goat for the first few minutes of play but when Butler and Fulton did get hep to the game it was broken up pretty quickly.

Pooler starred, of course. His foul shooting was great last night. He had his eye right on the little round ring and when Mitchell laid the ball down on the tossing line it was sure for a count. A new combination developed last night—Fulton to Pooler to score and vice versa.

For the visitors the Woodring family was right in the middle of the spot light they scoring eighteen of Reynoldsville's thirty-six points and then one of the Woodrings was only two foul points behind Pooler on the chicken shooting.

The line-up:

Clearfield		Reynoldsville
Pooler	F.	J. Woodring
Dowler	F.	Love
Fulton	C.	Miller
Robison	G.	S. Olszewski
Butler	G.	G. Woodring

WILLARD BARRATT TELLS OF THREE DAY ARMY HIKE

Dear Parents:

Tuesday March 5th

Well we are on the way, and are now encamped ujst across a lake from the artillery range. We started yesterday morning at 8:30 and were on the road until 1:30 p. m., making a total of about 18 miles in five hours. It was a great sight, twelve companies, forming three battalions, had their mules along and it made a procession about a mile and a half long We were lucky, in that we did not have mules to bother with. When we were about half way here it started to rain and kept it up for half an hour. That added something to the fun as we kept on going and the fellows started singing such songs as "Hail, hail, the gang's all here" etc. All were in fine spirits. It quit raining before we reached our camp site, and as it is on a hill which is sandy, it dried off very quickly.

We made camp using our "pup" tents and it makes a great sight, for on one hill is a regiment of artillery and the three machine gun battalions are encamped on two hills oposite. From where I am sitting now I can see them all and also see and hear the artillery at target practice. We loafed around yesterday afternoon and evening, went out on the hills for rough ground drill this morning. Nothing very strenuous. Have been loafing all afternoon today but tonight at 10 o'clock start on another hike of 14 miles. Will probably make it by 2:30 a. m. and have the novelty of making camp in the dark.

We are having a fine time. This afternoon about 1500 men were swimming in the lake. Officers and enlisted men together. Our major was in with us and a couple of other officers of our company. Had lots of fun, ducking one another etc.

So far we have been having a fine trip and would not have missed it for a good bit. Our C. O. was very well pleased with us, saying that we had made very good time on the way out, making camp and having our meals all on time. He must think a good deal of the latter as he has been eating with us all along. We had roast beef, browned potatoes, stewed corn, pickles, cheese, pineapple, coffee and bread for dinner so you know we are having "good eats."

Will have to get my pack made up for night march before supper. Want to take a little snooze before we start, so will say Good Afternoon.

Wednesday 4:00 P. M.

Started for our present encampment at 6:30 last evening instead of 10:00 p. m. as originally scheduled and after being delayed an hour at the start by a broken down bridge a short distance from our old camp site, moved along at a fair speed until 2.00 a. m. today covering about twenty two miles. Then pitched camp in the dark on a plowed field a short distance from a lake and lumber mill. It took us about an hour to get things in shape and were a petty tired bunch when we finally rolled in at 3:00 a. m. Did not have to get up until 8:30 for breakfast, after which we were free to do as we pleased. Had foot inspection as usual but nothing else on the program for the rest of the day, so we have been lounging around and sleeping all day and now feel fit for the hike tonight.

We are scheduled to leave here at 3 oclock in the morning so we will be able to sleep until 2 o'clock unless they change their plans. We are to march until breakfast time, stop and cook our own breakfast and continue our march until we have made ten miles. We are now on the second lap, or on our way back to camp over another and shorter route than we came out. Will tell you how I made out at cooking and eating my own meals tomorrow.

Thursday "Somewhere in Georgia"

We started on our return journey by a new route this morning at three o'clock and after making a two hour march stopped and cooked oru breakfast, which was some meal; bacon, potatoes, coffee and a few things which we were able to carry such as cakes, etc. It was dark when we stopped but our fires were soon going and lighted things up pretty well. After breakfast we moved on about a mile where we were able to fill our canteens with water and were once more on the way making five miles. We pitched camp here "Somewhere in Georgia' which is about fifteen miles from camp.

We are camped in an old cotton field; after camp had been made we started getting dinner. Mine was a fine one I assure you! My fire was pretty hot and in trying to make my bacon brown and crisp, burned it and had to start all over again. Succeeded better this time and had bacon,

KAISER CANNOT TRUST TROTSKY SAYS MASON

Peace Terms In His Hands Will Be Treated As Srap Of Paper To Suit His Needs

THE MOST FORCEFUL RUSSIAN

By J. W. T. Mason
Written for the United Press

New York, March 15—Leon Trotskys appointment as commissary for war by the Bolsheviki government is the most significant indication of Russia's future policy that has come from Petrograd since the peace negotiations with Germany reached their climax.

The Germans cannot trust Trostky to keep any peace terms that may be endorsed at Moscow by the Pan-Soviet congress. Trotsky is the strongest personality in the Bolsheviki government. His retirement from the head of the foreign office and his acceptance of the commissaryship of war come at a time when the Russian foreign office's influence must hereafter be overshadowed by the more active plans of the war department.

From the beginning of the Bolsheviki administration, Trotsky has assumed the responsibility for carrying out the government's dominant policies. If he thought the decision to be taken by the Pan-Soviet congress would in reality solve her internal problems, it is unbelievable he would so far remove himself from domestic affairs as to consent to becoming war commissary.

Rather he would insist upon having an administrative post giving him an opportunity to put into practice his communistic doctrines. It is for this that Trotsky is a revolutionist. But, domestic reform cannot be undertaken uninterruptedly until Russia has a real peace. Trotsky, therefore, in all probability believes further revolutionary warfare must ensue against Russias external enemies before serious attention can be concentrated on Russia's internal reconstruction.

Thus, if the Pan-Soviet congress votes in favor of immediate peace, the decision must not be accepted at itst face value. When, in the midst of the Pan-Soviet deiberations, Leon Trotsky suddeny heads the Russian war office, that fact is more important than a paper peace.

TODAY'S NEWS FROM AMERICAN FRONT

By United Press
By Fred S. Ferguson

With the American Army in France, March 15—American artillery cut loose in the Luneville sector last night and destroyed what is believed to have been a German gas projectile position. There was a great deal of sniping all along this sector today. Holders of Amerlian sharp shooter medals were in likely competition with the Boche. Control of this salient advances our line about 500 yards on a front of one and one-half miles. Twenty-one hostile airplanes flew over the American trenches today. There was normal artillerying. The Toul sector remaind quiet.

FIRST CLEARFIELDER WOUNDED

We are informed that Leon Durst is the first Clearfield boy to shed his blood in defense of the flag in the trenches of France, it being reported that his mother, Mrs. W. A. Durst, of Clark street, received word a day or so ago that her son had been wounded in the hand by German shrapnel in a recent attack. The wound is not serious. He is with the First Engineers.

The Jack Dempsey who was given the K. of C. at Portsmouth, N. H., the other night evidenty doesn't carry the same brand of biff as does the California curly wolf of the same name.

PRESIDENT TO ADDRESS PEOPLE AT EARLY DATE

(By United Press)

Washington, March 16.—A forceful war message to the world is expected from President Wilson soon. It was officially indicated today that the President had determined to end his silence in regard to America's position toward the proposed Japanese expedition into Siberia. At the same time it was stated that all talk of peace now is idle in view of Germany's activities in the far east and her ruthless invasion of Russia.

In the light of the news that the President will clarify the confusion with regard to the Japanese question coupled with the fact that he will set his feet down, officials and diplomats here are inclined to the belief that he will probably declare that the only way is the sword.

Officials here have strongly indicated during the last week that this government is convinced that Count Czernin, Austria's minister of Foreign Affairs, is dominated hopelessly by German junker influence. This is proven by his sharp demands upon Roumania and his failure to respond to the President's last speech on basic principles.

How the President will speak to the people is not stated. It is assumed, however, that he will address Congress.

WILL ELIMINATE ALL CROSS-HAULING OF COAL APRIL 1ST

(By United Press)

By United Press

Washington, March 16 — Regulations to control the entire coal output of America for the year beginning April 1, will be announced shortly by the fuel admiistrator, it was learned today. Under the regulations cross hauling of coal is to be eliminated by the designation of zones. The schedule of those will be worked out in conferences between fuel and transportation experts.

GRADE PUPILS OUTDO HIGH SCHOOL IN GIFTS AND LOANS TO UNCLE SAM

"Licorice stocks are busted, soda bonds are down,
You can't dispose of tops preferred anywhere in town.
Lollypops are mighty weak, jack-knives on the skid;
Seven now is asked for kites, but there is nothing bid.
The reason's easy to explain—investors by the score
Have let their funds to Uncle Sam to help to win the war!

The whistle on the peanut cart now shrieks all day in vain;
The buya-da-banana-man is looked on with disdain.
The capital that used to move these wares with lightning speed
Is going into savings stamps to serve a greater need.
And those in whose control it is are helping to finance
Their Uncle Sam to help the boys to win the war in France.

No new baseball bats this year; the old last season ball
When overhauled is found still good to play with after all.
And in the little shop down town the man who mends the wheels
Is kept so busy with repairs he hasn't time for meals.
No new bicycles this year, for if a wheel will ran
Let it keep right on the job until the war is done!

Chocolate bonds are wabbly; something has occurred
To hammer the quotations on marble stock preferred.
Fishlines are inactive—the busy season, too;
It's war time financiering to make the old ones do.
For every small investor is lending more and more
To Uncle Sam, who must have cash or he can't win the war."

We recently published an article of commendation for the High School pupils and teachers for their patriotism and ready and satisfactory response when called upon by their country at war. In a statement therewith it was shown that in addition to supplying many recruits for the army and navy, a total of almost ten thousand dollars had been contributed to Liberty Loan, War Savings Stamps, Y. M. C. A., K. of C., Red Cross and other war camp funds.

This most admirable showing of the follows at the top was the source of a great deal of satisfaction to all Clearfielders and was most favorably commented upon by all our people.

Being curious to know, as is the province of the newspaper man, whether the same measure of patriotism permeated the minds and hearts of those in our lower grade schools, The Progress man made a little investigation of his own and begs leave to report that the right kind of patriotism is possessed by every kiddo, big or little, who, enjoying the blessings of a free country in the way of being equipped with an education at the expese of the state, is a real American, knows why he or she is, has already made financial sacrifices and stands ready to make greater ones for their country in time of need.

The Junior Red Cross was recently organized in the schools and it is gratifying to know that the required membership fee of 25 cents each was not only provided for each individual scholar in every grade in every school in the town, but all of the rooms overran their quota several dollars each.

But to give you an idea of the extent to which young America is behind this war we will say that the total contributions of the Junior High and Grade schools of the borough to the different funds already enumerated have reached the handsome total of $11,660.74.

This money was contributed as follows:—

Junior High School

Liberty Loan, War Savings etc.	$4315.00
Junior Red Cross	172.44
Total	$4487.44

Third Ward

Liberty Bonds, War Savings	$1690.77
Junior Red Cross	123.39
Y. M. C. A., K. of C., Red Cross, Salvation Army	60.25
Total	$1874.35

Market Street

Liberty Bonds, W. S. S.	$4115.00
Junior Red Cross	63.95
Y. M. C. A., etc.	35.00
Total	$4213.95

Fourth Ward

Liberty Bonds, etc.	$485.00

In addition to the amounts mentioned above we overlooked getting a report from the Reedsville school until too late for this publication.

We loafed around yesterday afternoon and evening, went out on the hills for rough ground drill this morning. Nothing very strenuous. Have been loafing all afternoon today but tonight at 10 o'clock start on another hike of 14 miles. Will probably make it by 2:30 a. m. and have the novelty of making camp in the dark.

We are having a fine time. This afternoon about 1500 men were swimming in the lake. Officers and enlisted men together. Our major was in with us and a couple of other officers of our company. Had lots of fun, ducking one another etc.

So far we have been having a fine trip and would not have missed it for a good bit. Our C. O. was very well pleased with us, saying that we had made very good time on the way out, making camp and having our meals all on time. He must think a good deal of the latter as he has been eating with us all along. We had roast beef, browned potatoes, stewed corn, pickles, cheese, pineapple, coffee and bread for dinner so you know we are having "good eats."

Will have to get my pack made up for night march before supper. Want to take a little snooze before we start, so will say Good Afternoon.

Wednesday 4:00 P. M.

Started for our present encampment at 6:30 last evening instead of 10:00 p. m. as originally scheduled and after being delayed an hour at the start by a broken down bridge a short distance from our old camp site, moved along at a fair speed until 2.00 a. m. today covering about twenty two miles. Then pitched camp in the dark on a plowed field a short distance from a lake and lumber mill. It took us about an hour to get things in shape and were a petty tired bunch when we finally rolled in at 3:00 a. m. Did not have to get up until 8:30 for breakfast, after which we were free to do as we pleased. Had foot inspection as usual but nothing else on the program for the rest of the day, so we have been lounging around and sleeping all day and now feel fit for the hike tonight.

We are scheduled to leave here at 3 oclock in the morning so we will be able to sleep until 2 o'clock unless they change their plans. We are to march until breakfast time, stop and cook our own breakfast and continue our march until we have made ten miles. We are now on the second lap, or on our way back to camp over another and shorter route than we came out. Will tell you how I made out at cooking and eating my own meals tomorrow.

Thursday "Somewhere in Georgia"

We started on our return journey by a new route this morning at three o'clock and after making a two hour march stopped and cooked oru breakfast, which was some meal; bacon, potatoes, coffee and a few things which we were able to carry such as cakes, etc. It was dark when we stopped but our fires were soon going and lighted things up pretty well. After breakfast we moved on about a mile where we were able to fill our canteens with water and were once more on the way making five miles. We pitched camp here "Somewhere in Georgia' which is about fifteen miles from camp.

We are camped in an old cotton field; after camp had been made we started getting dinner. Mine was a fine one I assure you! My fire was pretty hot and in trying to make my bacon brown and crisp, burned it and had to start all over again. Succeeded better this time and had bacon,

KAISER CANNOT TRUST TROTSKY SAYS MASON

Peace Terms In His Hands Will Be Treated As Srap Of Paper To Suit His Needs

THE MOST FORCEFUL RUSSIAN

By J. W. T. Mason
Written for the United Press

New York, March 15—Leon Trotskys appointment as commissary for war by the Bolsheviki government is the most significant indication of Russia's future policy that has come from Petrograd since the peace negotiations with Germany reached their climax.

The Germans cannot trust Trostky to keep any peace terms that may be endorsed at Moscow by the Pan-Soviet congress. Trotsky is the strongest personality in the Bolsheviki government. His retirement from the head of the foreign office and his acceptance of the commissaryship of war come at a time when the Russian foreign office's influence must hereafter be overshadowed by the more active plans of the war department.

From the beginning of the Bolsheviki administration, Trotsky has assumed the responsibility for carrying out the government's dominant policies. If he thought the decision to be taken by the Pan-Soviet congress would in reality solve her internal problems, it is unbelievable he would so far remove himself from domestic affairs as to consent to becoming war commissary.

Rather he would insist upon having an administrative post giving him an opportunity to put into practice his communistic doctrines. It is for this that Trotsky is a revolutionist. But, domestic reform cannot be undertaken uninterruptedly until Russia has a real peace. Trotsky, therefore, in all probability believes further revolutionary warfare must ensue against Russias external enemies before serious attention can be concentrated on Russia's internal reconstruction.

Thus, if the Pan-Soviet congress votes in favor of immediate peace, the decision must not be accepted at itst face value. When, in the midst of the Pan-Soviet deiberations, Leon Trotsky suddeny heads the Russian war office, that fact is more important than a paper peace.

TODAY'S NEWS FROM AMERICAN FRONT

By United Press
By Fred S. Ferguson

With the American Army in France, March 15—American artillery cut loose in the Luneville sector last night and destroyed what is believed to have been a German gas projectile position. There was a great deal of sniping all along this sector today. Holders of Amerlian sharp shooter medals were in likely competition with the Boche. Control of this salient advances our line about 500 yards on a front of one and one-half miles. Twenty-one hostile airplanes flew over the American trenches today. There was normal artillerying. The Toul sector remaind quiet.

FIRST CLEARFIELDER WOUNDED

We are informed that Leon Durst is the first Clearfield boy to shed his blood in defense of the flag in the trenches of France, it being reported that his mother, Mrs. W. A. Durst, of Clark street, received word a day or so ago that her son had been wounded in the hand by German shrapnel in a recent attack. The wound is not serious. He is with the First Engineers.

The Jack Dempsey who was given the K. of C. at Portsmouth, N. H., the other night evidenty doesn't carry the same brand of biff as does the California curly wolf of the same name.

PRESIDENT TO ADDRESS PEOPLE AT EARLY DATE

(By United Press)

Washington, March 16.—A forceful war message to the world is expected from President Wilson soon. It was officially indicated today that the President had determined to end his silence in regard to America's position toward the proposed Japanese expedition into Siberia. At the same time it was stated that all talk of peace now is idle in view of Germany's activities in the far east and her ruthless invasion of Russia.

In the light of the news that the President will clarify the confusion with regard to the Japanese question coupled with the fact that he will set his feet down, officials and diplomats here are inclined to the belief that he will probably declare that the only way is the sword.

Officials here have strongly indicated during the last week that this government is convinced that Count Czernin, Austria's minister of Foreign Affairs, is dominated hopelessly by German junker influence. This is proven by his sharp demands upon Roumania and his failure to respond to the President's last speech on basic principles.

How the President will speak to the people is not stated. It is assumed, however, that he will address Congress.

Under the regulations cross hauling of coal is to be eliminated by the designation of zones. The schedule of those will be worked out in conferences between fuel and transportation experts.

GRADE PUPILS OUTDO HIGH SCHOOL IN GIFTS AND LOANS TO UNCLE SAM

"Licorice stocks are busted, soda bonds are down,
You can't dispose of tops preferred anywhere in town.
Lollypops are mighty weak, jack-knives on the skid;
Seven now is asked for kites, but there is nothing bid.
The reason's easy to explain—investors by the score
Have let their funds to Uncle Sam to help to win the war!

The whistle on the peanut cart now shrieks all day in vain;
The buya-da-banana-man is looked on with disdain.
The capital that used to move these wares with lightning speed
Is going into savings stamps to serve a greater need.
And those in whose control it is are helping to finance
Their Uncle Sam to help the boys to win the war in France.

No new baseball bats this year; the old last season ball
When overhauled is found still good to play with after all.
And in the little shop down town the man who mends the wheels
Is kept so busy with repairs he hasn't time for meals.
No new bicycles this year, for if a wheel will ran
Let it keep right on the job until the war is done!

Chocolate bonds are wabbly; something has occurred
To hammer the quotations on marble stock preferred.
Fishlines are inactive—the busy season, too;
It's war time financiering to make the old ones do.
For every small investor is lending more and more
To Uncle Sam, who must have cash or he can't win the war."

We recently published an article of commendation for the High School pupils and teachers for their patriotism and ready and satisfactory response when called upon by their country at war. In a statement therewith it was shown that in addition to supplying many recruits for the army and navy, a total of almost ten thousand dollars had been contributed to Liberty Loan, War Savings Stamps, Y. M. C. A., K. of C., Red Cross and other war camp funds.

This most admirable showing of the follows at the top was the source of a great deal of satisfaction to all Clearfielders and was most favorably commented upon by all our people.

Being curious to know, as is the province of the newspaper man, whether the same measure of patriotism permeated the minds and hearts of those in our lower grade schools, The Progress man made a little investigation of his own and begs leave to report that the right kind of patriotism is possessed by every kiddo, big or little, who, enjoying the blessings of a free country in the way of being equipped with an education at the expese of the state, is a real American, knows why he or she is, has already made financial sacrifices and stands ready to make greater ones for their country in time of need.

The Junior Red Cross was recently organized in the schools and it is gratifying to know that the required membership fee of 25 cents each was not only provided for each individual scholar in every grade in every school in the town, but all of the rooms overran their quota several dollars each.

But to give you an idea of the extent to which young America is behind this war we will say that the total contributions of the Junior High and Grade schools of the borough to the different funds already enumerated have reached the handsome total of $11,660.74.

This money was contributed as follows:—

Junior High School

Liberty Loan, War Savings etc.	$4315.00
Junior Red Cross	172.44
Total	$4487.44

Third Ward

Liberty Bonds, War Savings	$1690.77
Junior Red Cross	123.39
Y. M. C. A., K. of C., Red Cross, Salvation Army	60.25
Total	$1874.35

Market Street

Liberty Bonds, W. S. S.	$4115.00
Junior Red Cross	63.95
Y. M. C. A., etc.	35.00
Total	$4213.95

Fourth Ward

Liberty Bonds, etc.	$485.00

In addition to the amounts mentioned above we overlooked getting a report from the Reedsville school until too late for this publication.

PLANT—PLANT—PLANT

There are few families in our average cities who can't swat the Kaiser this coming spring and summer with a vegetable garden of greater or lesser proportions. Nothing is more interesting to the normal every day man than this delving in the ground in his spare time, and there are few things that contribute more to lower the cost of living. If this reaches your eye before it is time to begin your garden, cut it out and save it. It comes through me from one of the best vegetable growers I know.

Have your ground broken deep. Don't plant, if you can help yourself, the same crop in the same place you had it last year. Where you had potates last year, for instance, plant beans this year. Shift them around.

Plant early in spite of your fear of the frost. If the frost gets your early planting, plant again and immediately afterward. Old newspapers weighted down on each side with a handful of earth, will protect from frost unless there is a strong wind. Do not let the paper touch the plant.

Put garden peas in double rows about fifteen inches apart. Chick wire three or four feet high, staked at each end and in the middle of the average row, will serve many years as a trellis for peas. Stakes and twin, or brush, will serve the same purpose, but are not so good in the long run as the wire. As this trellising impedes hoeing, do it only when the height of the peas make it necessary. Frost does not hurt peas. Get them out early.

Put Irish potatoes in drills about four or five inches deep. Put one eye every eight inches, and replant where they fail to come up. In hoeing, do not cut the roots, and do not draw earth too high on the plant after it has a good start, as this causes a second crop of potatoes to start growing, which will set back the bigger ones. Use a solution of Paris Green for potato beetles. In dry seasons prying up the middle with a spading fork without turning th earth any whatever, and then watering with a hose has an almost miraculous effect.

Plant sweet corn at different times, which will give you green corn until frost. All vegetables grow better on the east side of corn than on the west, for then the vegetables get the morning sun Two hours of morning sun are better for all vegetables growth than a whole afternoon of it.

Tomatoes need not have sticks, but the fruit should be kept off the ground with straw, or even old newspapers, as contact with the ground causes rotting. A crop of late tomatoes will usually grow where you pulled up the vines of your bunch beans or your peas. Keep the ground full.

Both potatoes and corn are hard on the land. But if the land is sufficiently rich it will produce both corn and potatoes in one year. Plant the potatoes early and plant the corn between the rows as soon as can be done with due consideration for the hoeing.

Don't let a crust form around your youn sweet potato plants. When the first autoumn frost falls on the vines, cut them off under the ground before the sunlight gets to them. You can then dig the potatoes almost at your leisure. Sweet potatoes are hard to keep into the winter. Don't bruise them and keep them spread out in an even temperature, else bury them in sand in an even temperature.

A dust mulch around plants is good in very dry weather. Watering is better, however, but it should be done only in the evening. Do not allow a crust to form around plants because of this watering. A big can, with the smallest imaginable leak in the bottom, is a fine thing to fill with water and set in the middle of a cucumber or melon hill. The leak keeps the ground moist.

Finally, plant, plant, plant, and swat the Kaiser! If you have nowhere else, plant your flower beds and show your colors. I, me, myself, I'm going to plant a part of my street.—Vigilante.

potatoes with a few slices of onion in them, coffee and bread with jam. Tonight for supper will change the bill of fare a little as the Turk, Wilson, and I discovered a farm house this afternoon where we were able to buy a dozen of fresh eggs. Will have them for supper tonight and breakfast tomorrow morning.

We had it pretty easy today, making about twelve miles and have been loafing ever since. Nothing to do tonight but sleep as we start at 8 o'clock in the morning on the last lap of our journey so will finish this after we are once more in quarters.

Fire call just sounded.

Later: First sergeant put me in charge of a detatil to fight a forest fire about five miles back along our line of march and we were taken back there in combat wagon, armed with blankets, shovels, pick axes, etc. but it was almost over when we got there. Had about an hour's work and then returned to camp and started to get supper. Tonight it consists of dried beef, more bacon and eggs, potatoes coffee and bread. Had good luck this time and did not burn the bacon We are all pretty well rested up tonight and feel fit for our last lap. We leave at 9 o'clock and march until noon, have dinner and continue on to camp which we expect to make by 2.30.

Of course we will be glad to get back as our present camp is three miles from the nearestt place we can get water that we are able to use. The country being low here the water is mostly stagnant and as black as the negroes working in the fields nearby. Almost time for "lap," so will have to roll in and get a good night's sleep

Friday

We are back in camp again, arriving here at 3:00 p m. We were up at 6 15 a. m. and had breakfast packed camp, shaved as usual and broke camp. We were on the way at 9 o'clock again. At 12 o'clock we stopped at Bellaire a small town near the machine gun range. Everyone made a rush for the only store in the town. The Turk and I were able to make it among the first and were fortunate enough to be able to get some crackers, cheese, sardines and chipped beef. We made our way out the back door and on the front porch of a house near by was an old lady and a couple of youngsters. She asked us why everyone was so anxious to get in the store and we told her they had to cook their own dinner if they did not. She said that was too bad and invited us in. She then gave us half a layer cake and a couple of quarts of milk, for which we surely thanked her.

We went back to where our company fell out and had quite a feed Major Case, Lieutenants, Butterworth Shoemaker and Cruse ate with us and furnished some cocoa from thermos bottles they had along with them. The Maor things a lot of our outfit and said "Leave it to A Company for eats even when they have to furnish their own." He also told us we were the only company in the regiment who did not have a man reported for not being shaved this morning and said he thought when they used the last bit of water they had in their canteens to shave with there was something to them. We got water just a few minutes before we resumed march this morning, some of our fellows going five miles without breakfast for it.

After dinner we had a little time to ourselves and took in the sights At 1 o'clock we started once more on our ojurney.

Arriving at division headquarters we were reviewed by the staff (General Muir being away). At 3 o'clock we arrived in our company street, a tired but happy bunch. Then there was a rush for a bath and clean clothes We had very few cases of sore feet, showing that old cavalry men can hike if they want to Some of our felows got oak poison which is somewhat like poison ivy in the north they will all be better in a few days Have about five or six cases Just heard that our friend the Major has developed it since getting back

We are all well pleased with the trip and I am sure I would not have missed it for a great deal We had lots of fun good eats and fine weather with the exception of a little rain the first day Made sixty five miles in five days on our trip and 2458 men in line Pretty hard to read this but am writing this on a bucket turned side down.

CARP FIRST PLANTED IN AMERICAN STREAMS IN 1877

Washington, Mar. 13.—The Bureau of Fisheries has started a campaign to introduce the carp to more American homes. The bureau says of the somewhat neglected fish

The carp discovered America in 1877

He found the land to his liking. He converts useless vegetation and small animals into meat.

His meat is wholesome and nutritious. It contains as much protein as sirloin steak.

It is easily digestible.

It can be cooked in such a way as to remove the muddy taste.

It can be boiled, baked, made into croquettes or fish loaf. Carp jelly, an ancient Swedish dish, is delicious.

There are millions of carp in the United States. The latest census shows that 43,000,000 pounds were marketed in one year. Nearly all of this came from a few States in the Middle West.

Somebody ate the other 43,000,000 pounds of carp

Therefore the carp must be good to eat

The carp is good to eat Carp has not only been eaten, but has been cultivated in Europe for centuries Europeans know how to cook it

William F. Hoppe Champion of The World and Chas. C. Peterson St. Louis Champion Fancy Shot Expert Will Play Exhibition Games at Healy's Billiard Parlors Monday, March 18th, Afternoon & Evening

William F. Hoppe, champion of the world, and Chas. I. Peterson, St. Louis, champion fancy shot expert, will play exhibition games at the "Y" gym Monday, March 18th, afternoon and evening.

The passing of the pool hall that is nothing more than a resort for loafers is something that R. B. Benjamin versatile manager of Willie Hoppe, world's champion billiard player, has set his heart on.

Benjamin doesn't hesitate to step out in the open and declare war on the old-time pool room that still flourishes in some parts of the country. Benjamin always has stood for clean sport and right now his particularly hobby is clean billiards.

Next to Hoppe himself the clean-up of the billiard world is the favorite topic of the manager of the champion. "I expect billiards to rank with baseball as a claimant for public favor before many years have possed," said Benjamin. That may sound a bit startling to anyone not in the know. But I believe that will be the case. For the bililard game isgoing to be put through a thorough cleaning process. I am not at liberty to say just what these plans are, as the time is not ripe but the reform is bound to come.

"Willie Hoppe himelf already has done more to elevate billiards than any other single force the game ever has known. Willia is a regular fellow in every way—a chap in whom nobody can pick a flaw. He is a Christian gentleman in every sense of the word. Willie never has committed a dishonest act, nor has he ever been accused of any underhanded tactics in a game that until recently had a bad name. Nor is he of the money grabbing type. Willie is always willing to help out a fellow mortal who has been compeled to hoist the signal of distress."

Benpamin's remarks, coming from a man of his calibre, are worthy of careful consideration. Hoppe's manager has been mixed up in the world of sport for thirty years. In his youth, he was something of an athletic himself. Benjamin gained quite a reputation on the Pacific Coast as an amateur wrestler.

Benjamin has always been seeking out the pioneer spots. He has traveled over India, China, Australia, America and Europe for a score of years. Twenty-three times has he passed through the Suez Canal on his way to or from India and Australia. Always he has had with him some big sporting attraction. Benjamin probably has made more tours with various sorts of athletic organizations, tennis, cricket, and billiard players than any other man in the world. And he never has piloted a show that wasn't eclan in every sense of the word. Nor has he ever managed a financial loser.

When Benjamin tood hold of Hoppe's affairs the champion, despite his inimitable skill, was making no better than an average living out of the game. Sice that time, Hoppe has become know in every nook and cranny of the United States. Hoppe's earning now average about $30,000 a year.

No wonder Willie thinks his manager is the greatest man on earth.

M. Bone, the European eye specialist, will remain at the Windsor hotel Friday, Saturday and Monday. Don't fail to go to see him and get your eyes fixed up. M14-2t

MARTIN

Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, widow of the late John H. Martin, one of Bellefonte's oldest residents, died at ten minutes past 10 o'clock Monday night at the residence of her granddaughter Mrs. Wilson T. Romick, in Bush's Addition, with whom she had been making her home for quite a while. Deceased was taken sick the day before with grip, and her advanced age worked against her recovery. Had she lived until the 20th of May, next, she would have been ninety-one years of age. She was born at Marietta, May 20, 1827, the daughter of Frederick and Catherine Moyer, and was one of a family of seventeen children, eleven of whom lived to reach maturity. In December, 1844, she was united in marriage with John H. Martin, to which union eight children were born, three of whom survive, namely: A. F. Martin, of Pittsburgh; John H. and Frederick Martin, of Clearfield. The family resided in Bellefonte for many years, where the father died in 1871. Mrs. Martin was the last surviving member of her family, all of whom, reaching maturity, had lived to an advanced age. Her sister, Mrs. Sallie Boggs, of Altoona, died in January last, at the age of 89 years. In spite of the weight of her years, Mrs. Martin retained keen mental faculties and aside from her hearing being somewhat impaired she enjoyed good health. She was a member of the Presbyterian church, in which edifice the funeral service will be held this (Thursday) morning, conducted by Rev. W. K. McKinney, the pastor. Interment will be made in Union cemetery.—(Centre Democrat)

WATER THE BEST BOWEL AND LIVER MEDICINE

Drink a glass of hot water before breakfast washes poisons from system

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this vastly more importance than cleanliness, because the skin does not absorb impurities into blood, causing ill health, while there in the ten yards of bowels

Men and women are urged to drink each morning before breakfast a glass hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous days indigestible matter poisonous gases, sour bile and toxins; thus sweetening, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before entering more food into the stomach.

Those with soap and hot water cleanse the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminating organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath coated tongue, nasty taste of have a splitting head, sallow complexion, sick stomach; others who are subject to attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which costs very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of internal bathing. Those who continue this morning are assured of prompt results, both in regard to health and appearance.

Lesson 11.—First Quarter March 17, 1918.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES

Lesson Text, Mark 6:7-13, 30—Memory Verses, Matt. 28:18-20—Golden Text, Matt. 10:8—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The opening verses of our lesson chapter find Jesus teaching in the synagogue among his own people who could not understand how he, whom they had known from childhood, could teach as he did, and do such mighty works. They knew his brothers and sisters, Mary's other children of whom he was the firstborn (Ps. 69:8; Lu. 2:7), and supposed that he was like them of ordinary human parentage, not knowing or not believing the manner of his birth (Matt. 1:20, 21). Their unbelief, at which he marveled, hindered him from doing any mighty works among them except healing a few sick folk (4-6); but he went round about among the villages teaching. If some will not hear others will and there will always be an open door somewhere for those whom he sends forth in his name. We saw in a former lesson that he called unto him twelve that they might be with him, and that he might send them forth (3-14, 15); and now we see him sending them forth, by two and two, to teach and heal in his name (7-13). They were not to go to the Gentiles or Samaritans, but only to Israel; and proclaim the kingdom of heaven as at hand, healing the sick, cleansing the lepers, raising the dead, casting out demons, and doing all freely (Matt. 10:5-7). The kingdom must begin with Israel, and will begin there when it shall be set up at his return. Because Israel rejected him and his kingdom, the gospel is, in this age of his rejection, and a postponed kingdom, to be purchased among the nations to take out of them a people for his name, the church which is his body and bride; and then shall Israel be saved, and then all nations (Acts 15:13-18).

Inasmuch as human hearts are always the same, enmity against God (Rom. 8:7, 8), we may still expect much of the same treatment which the twelve were told they would receive (Matt. 10:16-25), and we must be content to be as sheep in the midst of wolves, for his sake killed all the day long. We are not to fear the actual death of the body, knowing that for the believer to die is gain, and absent from the body means present with the Lord, (Matt. 10:28-30; Phil. 1.21, 23; 2 Cor. 5:8). Our standing orders are to proclaim repentance and remission of sins among all the people in his name, and tell them of a judgment to come and of him who has been appointed the judge of all, Christ risen from the dead (Lu. 24:46-48; Acts 17:30, 31). He taught them, and us through them, that whatever treatment they received would be counted as if done to himself, and also that as they went in his name they must have no anxious care about food or raiment or recompense (vs. 8-10; Matt. 10:9, 10, 40-42). On the last night before he was crucified he asked them, "When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye anything?" and they said, "Nothing." Luke 22:35. It stands ever true for all his faithful followers, that if we make the coming of his kingdom our chief concern, he will see to the supply of all our needs (Matt. 6:33; Phil. 4:19). As to anything we may be called upon to bear for his sake, we must count that a privilege, and be comforted by the assurance that such affliction or trial is working for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory, and that the sufferings of this present time, are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us. (Phil. 1:29; 2 Cor. 4:17, 18; Rom. 8:18). As Herod and his companions heard of the wonders wrought through Jesus Christ, some said that he was Elijah, but Herod's guilty conscience remembered the birthday party, and how to please a wicked woman he had caused John to be beheaded, and he said: "It is John risen from the dead" (vs. 14-16). If the terrors of a guilty conscience are so awful here in this world, who can imagine what the torment of the lost must be even between death and resurrection, and then in the lake of fire (Luke 16:23, 24; Rev. 14:9-11). Does it not seem that if we really believed God concerning the happiness of the redeemed and the sufferings of the lost we would have more of the zeal of Paul, or a D. L. Moody, or a William Sunday in reaching after sinners to deliver them from the wrath to come? It would be a great thing for every teacher and preacher, and for every true believer, to do every evening as the disciples and apostles did after the burial of John the Baptist's body—tell Jesus all things that had been done and said through the day (vs. 29, 30). If it was our custom to rehearse to him all we have said and done, we might perhaps learn to leave unsaid and undone many things, and to say and to do others which we are neglecting. He does not need that we should tell him, for he sees and hears and knows all, but it would be a great benefit to us to talk it all over with him, and he would love to have us do so.

LETTERS FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS

LETTER FROM BUGLER ALLEN

Somewhere in France

Editor Clearfield Progress:

Dear Sir—Just a few lines after all my experience coming across the water to let you know that I have landed safe, somewhere in France and it is "somewhere" to. I would like to tell you about my trip coming across but I guess you have read about the Tuscania sinking lately. You see all the mail leaving here is censored of course and I am not alowed to give out any information whatever. I would also like to tell you what kind of a time the boys are having in France. It is great.. Sunday is a thing of the past here. Every day looks the same, because it is always dark. This place is a good place for miners because they are accostomed to the heavy gases and water and the noises made by the big guns.

I was in Paris on my way here and I did not see a girl that looks as good as the good old U. S. A. girls.

I am in the signal section now and I have my hands full. I don't do anything but signal, shoot and blow my horn. In other words a sniper. I am a sharp-shooter and if I ever get a chance to take a crack at the Kaiser soon I think the war will be over and we all will be home for the 4th of July. I thought I saw him the other night. I had my bunky by the neck and justa about killed him in my sleep. I don't know if I ever will get to write to you again on account of this being my last sheet of paper and no other place to get any paper or tobacco where we are at.

As I have to go on guard tonight I think I had better close for this time hoping to hear from you all soon,

I remain

ENLISTED AT PITTSBURGH

Lee G. Hills, of Clearfield, enlisted in the U. S. Army at the Pittsburgh recruiting office yesterday.

An extraordinary porduct of South America is the "sneeze-wood tree," which no worm or other insect will touch. When cut with a saw the tree throws out a cloud of very fine dust which always sets the sawyer sneezing.

Siberia, the immense territory upon which the Germans are believed to have set their eyes, comprises a much larger area than the United States. Many persons have considered the country as a glacial desert, and a place only for the punishment of Russian offenders. This is true of the northern part of the territory, but the largest part of Siberia is a land with immense commercial prospects. Gold and silver mines, almost inexhaustible, are there. The soil of a large part of the province possesses marvellous productivity.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to flush Kidneys if back hurts or baldder bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eatt it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat form uric acid which almost apralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in th back or sick headach, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salt from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

COURT NOTES

Judge Bell heard argument in the case of H. A. Murray vs. J. P. O'Laughlin yesterday afternoon. The argument was on the motion of Raymond W. Brown, of Brookville, representing the defendant, to strike off the plaintiff's statement on the ground of no cause for action.

Mr. Murray argued his own side of the case. Judge Bell will give his decision later.

But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Just massage Musterole in with the finger-tips gently. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

Gardeneers, Attention!

If you've been reading all the instructions coming from garden experts you're looking over your garden tools.

Don't let the warm gardening weather catch unawares. Get your tools out and look them over, re-placing those that need re-placing and repairing those that can be repaired.

This is just the first call for early gardeners. We'll tell you about the various tools later on.
